

Living Our Values: Infant Resource Drive

About Our Campaign

In line with our reproductive justice values, Texas Equal Access (TEA) Fund has partnered with Texas Christian University's (TCU) Department of Women & Gender Studies to raise awareness about the physical and emotional harm anti-abortion centers (AACs) cause to pregnant people.

Anti-abortion centers are commonly known as crisis pregnancy centers (CPCs). The primary goal of these tax-payer-funded fake clinics is to use medically false information, coercive tactics, emotional manipulation, and religious shaming to force people into parenthood before they are ready and/or willing due to their circumstances.

Our initiative aims to provide a better alternative for the millions of pregnant people in Texas who were abandoned by our state and need ongoing and tangible support and resources. As part of our campaign, we are organizing an infant resource drive and distribution on the TCU campus on Apr 15, 2023 from 10 AM to 12:00 PM. The infant resource drive is part of our more comprehensive My Choice: Not A Crisis campaign focusing long-term on defunding and dismantling anti-abortion centers.

Purpose of the Drive

- Support pregnant people in Texas by offering them ongoing and tangible support in the form of infant care items with no strings attached and no questions asked, unlike AACs.
- Offer factual and accurate information to discourage people from seeking AACs for their falsely advertised services.
- Highlight the dangers of AACs and affirm whatever decision pregnant people in Texas make about their bodies.
- Empower community organizations to join us in shifting resource access in north Texas. And build connections and community partnerships.

Asks of Community Partners and Organizations
